The Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP) is an educational program that introduces the concepts and skills of neonatal resuscitation.

What is the plus component of this NRP course? It was developed to focus exclusively on the post-resuscitation/pre-transport stabilization care of sick infants. The curriculum was created specifically with level 1 partners in mind. In this component the focus is on common post resuscitative complications that can and do occur. The goal is to educate and assist healthcare providers taking care of these fragile infants with information and strategies to improve the high level of care required and includes lectures and clinical practical skills.

Course open to Respiratory Therapists, Midwives, Nurses and Physicians caring for neonates and/or birthing families within a hospital setting in North Simcoe Muskoka or Parry Sound. Note: course covered by the Network, exam to be covered by individual attendees.
